WELLNESS EXPERTS | CONTRIBUTION CANVAS

Describe the contribution you can deliver

Turn a broad professional profile into a clear school-relevant contribution.

USE THIS RESOURCE

Use to prepare an initial provider enquiry. It is not an application approval or a promise of referrals, paid work or Alliance membership.

Start with fit

1. Which school-community need fits my actual competence?
2. Who would benefit: learners, teaching staff, support staff, parents or leaders?
3. What must be in place for me to deliver responsibly?

Describe a bounded contribution

1. Need: the specific situation you can help address.
2. Activity: what you would do, in plain language.
3. Output: what the school or participant would actually receive.
4. Format and capacity: where, how and for how many you could realistically work.
5. Boundary: what you do not provide and where a different professional is needed.

Describe the contribution you can deliver

Prepare the commercial discussion

State whether the proposal is paid, subsidised, sponsored or a limited voluntary contribution. Specify what must be agreed about fees, preparation, expenses and follow-up. A contribution should not depend on unlimited unpaid work.

Keep initial information proportionate

Share your professional role, organisation, location and a short description. Do not include client records, confidential case material or identity documents in the public enquiry form. Appropriate checks and documents belong in a later agreed process.

KEEP IN VIEW

A useful introduction explains the need, the work, the output and the boundary. A long list of specialties cannot replace these.

One next step to take

Keep this copy for your use. Do not add private cases to shared programme materials.
