SERVICE FACT SHEET | 11 NOVEMBER 2026

Wellness expert participation

An expression-of-interest route for a defined contribution to an agreed school-community need.

Who it is for

Relevant practitioners, service providers and existing Alliance members

Intended value

Make possible expertise, delivery responsibilities and commercial terms clear before an engagement.

Available now

Free contribution canvas, scope checklist, review guide and provider enquiry route.

Possible later scope

A defined assignment may be discussed after fit, competence, permissions, availability, safeguarding arrangements and commercial terms are reviewed.

Participation required

A clear account of competence, realistic capacity, role boundaries and agreed delivery responsibilities. Appropriate professional checks precede activation.

DECISION POINT

Free resources and an initial enquiry do not purchase delivery. Review the boundaries, timing and terms on the next page.

Boundaries, timing and terms

Wellness expert participation

Exclusions and boundaries

No automatic Alliance membership, approval, endorsement, referrals, paid work or income guarantee. Initial interest does not commit a provider to unpaid delivery.

Timing

Enquiries can be made now. Review and delivery dates depend on fit and school requirements; no response deadline is promised.

Price and terms

Initial enquiry is free. Compensation, expenses, preparation, follow-up and any other charges are agreed separately before work.

Availability

Zimbabwe school-community focus; no claim of an already available nationwide specialist roster.

Evidence

Planning tools show how a contribution can be scoped. They are not proof of provider selection or school demand.

BEFORE COMMITMENT

Specific delivery responsibilities, provider suitability and any commercial terms are confirmed before an engagement. Registration does not approve school activity.
